SCIENTIFIC MIRACLES IN THE QUR'ĀN

Throughout its history, the Qur'ān has continued to reveal its miracles and prove beyond doubt its Divine origin. The Qur'ān is not a book of Science, Philosophy, Geology, History, etc. - It is revelation from God as guidance for Mankind. However, if experts from any of the human sciences were to read it, they would conclude beyond doubt, that the words of the Qur'ān are not from any human being but from God Almighty. The field of Science is no different. The Qur'ān contains countless scientific facts which were unknown to man even a hundred years ago, and considering it was revealed fourteen hundred years ago, clearly/absolutely proves its is a revelation from the All-Mighty.

THE QUR'ĀN ON MOUNTAINS

The book entitled 'Earth' is a basic reference textbook in many universities around the world. One of its two authors is Professor Emeritus Frank Press. He was the Science Advisor to former US President Jimmy Carter, and for 12 years was the President of the National Academy of Sciences, Washington, DC. His book says that mountains have underlying roots.1920 These roots are deeply embedded in the ground, thus, mountains have a shape like a peg. This is how the Qur'ān has described mountains. God has said in the Qur'ān:

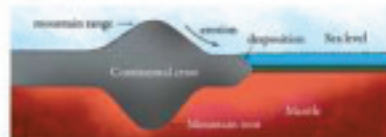

"Have We not made the earth a resting place? And the mountains as stakes (pegs)?"

Qur'ān 78: 6-7

Modern earth sciences have proven that mountains have deep roots under the surface of the ground and that these roots can reach several times their elevations above the surface of the ground.1924 So the most suitable word to describe mountains on the basis of this information is the word 'peg,' since most of a properly set peg is hidden under the surface of the ground. The history of science tells us that the theory of mountains having deep roots was introduced only in the latter half of the nineteenth century.1925 Mountains also play an important role in stabilizing the crust of the earth.1926 They hinder the shaking of the earth.

Likewise, the modern theory of plate tectonics holds that mountains work as stabilizers for the earth. This knowledge about the role of mountains as stabilizers for the earth has just begun to be understood in the framework of plate tectonics since the late 1960's. Could anyone during the time of the Prophet Muhammad have known of the true shape of mountains?

The Qur'ān on the 'Big Bang Theory

"Have those who disbelieved not considered that the heavens and the earth were a [ratq] joined entity, and We [fataqa] separated them.... Then will they not believe?"

Qur'ān 21:30

The word 'ratq' translated as 'sewn to' means 'mixed in each, blended' in Arabic. It is used to refer to two different substances that make up a whole. The phrase 'fataqa' is 'unstitched' and implies that something comes into being by tearing apart or destroying the structure of things that are sewn to one another.

In the verse, heaven and earth are at first subject to the status of 'ratq.' They are separated (fataqa) with one coming out of the other. Intriguingly, when we think about the first moments of the 'Big Bang' we see that the entire matter of the universe collected at one single point. In other words, everything including 'the heavens and earth' which were not created yet were in an interwoven and inseparable condition.

Then, this point exploded violently, causing its matter to disunite. The 'Big Bang' theory holds that about 20,000,000,000 years ago the universe began with the explosive expansion of a single, extremely condensed state of matter. The Nobel Prize for science in 1977 was awarded for this discovery, whereas it was stated by the Qur'ān centuries before

Dr. Alfred Kroner is one of the world's renowned geologists from Johannes Gutenberg University in Germany. He said: "Thinking where Muhammad came from... I think it is almost impossible that he could have known about things like the common origin of the universe, because scientists have only found out within the last few years, with very complicated and advanced technological methods, that this is the case.... Somebody who did not know something about nuclear physics fourteen hundred years ago could not, I think, be in a position to find out from his own mind, for instance, that the earth and the heavens had the same origin."

THE QUR'ĀN ON HUMAN EMBRYONIC DEVELOPMENT

In the Holy Qur'ān, God speaks about the stages of man's embryonic development:

"And certainly did We create man from an extract of clay. Then We placed him as a sperm-drop [nutfah] in a firm lodging [i.e., womb]. Then We made the sperm-drop into a clinging clot [alaqah], and We made the clot [alaqah] into a lump [of flesh], and We made [from] the lump, bones, and We covered the bones with flesh; then We developed him into another creation. So blessed is God, the best of creators."

Qur'ān 23:12-14

Nutfah and Manii

The Nutfah literally means 'a [single] drop' of fluid whereas Manii means 'semen.' In the Qur'ān and Hadith, Nutfah is used in three different but interwoven connotations:

1. The Male Nutfah,
2. The Female Nutfah,
3. Nutfah Amshaj – mixed or mingled Male and Female Nutfah

In the male context, the Nutfah is a single particle from the Manii when it is ejaculated – i.e. a single cell [sperm] from amongst the 200-300 million sperm cells. The word Nutfah was mentioned twelve different times in the Qur'ān and the word Manii was mentioned thrice.

The Male Nutfah

"Does man think that he will be left neglected? Had he not been a sperm [nutfah] from semen [manii] emitted? Then he was a clinging clot [alaqah], and [God] created [his form] and proportioned [him]. And made of him two mates, the male and the female. Is not that [Creator] Able to give life to the dead?"

Qur'ān 75:36-40

THE QUR'ĀN ON THE EXPANDING UNIVERSE

"And the heaven We constructed with strength, and indeed, We are [its] expander."

Qur'ān 51: 47

It was only after the development of the radio telescope in 1937 that the expansion of the universe was observed and established. While observing the sky with a telescope, Edwin Hubble, the American astronomer, discovered that the stars and galaxies were constantly moving away from each other. This discovery is regarded as one of the greatest in the history of astronomy. During these observations, Hubble established that the stars emit a light that turns redder according to their distance.

That is because according to the known laws of physics, light heading towards a point of observation turns violet, and light moving away from that point assumes a more reddish hue. During his observations, Hubble noted a tendency towards the colour red in the light emitted by stars. In short, the stars were moving further and further away, all the time. The stars and galaxies were not only moving away from us, but also from each other. A universe where everything constantly moves away from everything else implied a constantly expanding universe.

In these ayats, there are a lot of facts that require careful consideration. We know the sex of the new born is determined by the male - it is definitively stated that the male and female are fashioned from a sperm-drop from the semen that has been ejaculated. We know that the sex of the new born is determined by the sperm which will fertilize the ovum. If the sperm carrying an X chromosome fertilizes an ovum [which always contains an X chromosome], the offspring will be a girl, while if the fertilizing sperm contains a Y chromosome, the offspring will be a boy. The Qur'ān has stated this fact 1400 years ago, before anybody knew anything about X and Y chromosomes.

The Female Nutfah

The Female Nutfah [ovum] per se is not mentioned explicitly in the Qur'ān but is inferred in the term Nutfah Amshaj – i.e. mingled from both male and female. However, it is clearly stated in the hadith

Drug ring members get a total of 66 years in jail

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

SIX members involved in a nationwide drugs conspiracy have been sent to prison for a total of 66 years.

The 'Boss' Adil Khan, of Woodford Green, was himself given a 19-year sentence for his part at the centre of the Luton-based conspiracy.

He drove a series of expensive cars, including a Maserati and Rolls Royce despite having no obvious means of income and no traceable bank accounts or credit cards.

Bedfordshire Police monitored the conspirators' activities between October 2009 and July 2010.

The first arrests were made in January 2010, when a man and three women were arrested in Reading in possession of about 3kg of heroin, with a street value of £150,000.

More arrests were made in March 2010 in Birmingham, where two men were arrested in possession of heroin worth £400,000, followed by a seizure of £50,000 of heroin in transit on the M1 - which is known to have come from a flat in Luton.

At the end of March 2010, police raided

Hospital worker to appear in court over sex assaults

A HEALTHCARE assistant has been charged with sexually assaulting 14 male patients at Luton & Dunstable Hospital's Stroke Unit.

Ameet Mohabeer, 28, of Butely Road, Luton, appeared at Luton Magistrates' Court on Thursday in relation to 13 charges of sexual assault on a male contrary to the Sexual Offences Amendment Act 2003, and four charges of causing a man to engage in a penetrative sexual activity contrary to the Sexual Offences Act 2003.

Mr Mohabeer was bailed with conditions to appear at Luton Crown Court on October 3 when he will be asked to enter a plea.

The charges relate to incidents which occurred while he was on duty at ward 17 at the L&D.

Luton on Sunday broke a national exclusive in March when we reported that an L&D staff member had the previous month been arrested over allegations of serious sexual offences against patients recovering from strokes.

LoS published a special helpline phone num-

The incidents have been investigated by the Safeguarding Adults Investigation Unit at Bedfordshire Police and the L&D.

'Lives at risk' fear over bid for trauma centre

EXCLUSIVE

BY CHRISTINA JOHNSON
christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

PATIENTS who need treatment for very serious and life threatening injuries will need to be driven up to 40 miles to receive it under new plans.

At the moment people with major trauma - the name given to severe injuries, such as those that could be received in a car accident, - are taken to their nearest hospital's emergency department. In Luton's case this is Luton & Dunstable Hospital.

But because such injuries, which are the leading cause of death for people aged under 40 in the UK, are rare and staff only see around one patient every week on average, health bosses announced on Wednesday that they have agreed to establish an East of England regional Major Trauma Centre at Addenbrooke's Hospital in Cambridge.

Katherine Murphy, chief executive of the Patients' Association, said: "It is absolutely vital that patients can reach accident and emergency quickly, especially if they have suffered serious trauma and every second counts."

"We are very concerned that forcing patients to travel further to find an accident and emergency department may put patients' lives at risk."

"We have been hearing for months that other hospital services are being cut and despite Government promises to the contrary, patients tell us that it is compromising patient care."

"The same cannot be allowed to happen to accident and emergency services where time and distance are such important considerations."

"Trusts must ensure that all patients are in easy reach of an accident and emergency unit and not to allow budgetary pressures to put patient safety at risk."

Dr Robert Winter, chairman of the East of England Major Trauma Network, said: "Providing expert trauma care in every emergency department is incredibly difficult."

"In the East of England major trauma cases account for only around one per cent of all the work emergency departments do."

"There is a wealth of international research showing that more patients will get better outcomes if dedicated centres, with a wide range of specialties on one site, are available."

"As most hospital emergency departments in the region only ever see a handful of cases each year, it is simply not possible to have all the necessary skills available all the time, just in case."

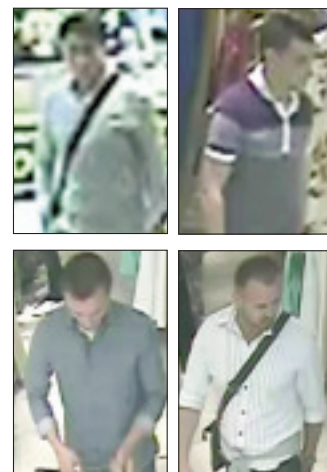

"We believe that by establishing new ways to deal with major trauma cases we can save significantly more lives each year."

A series of national reviews led in 2010 to a requirement that every Strategic Health Authority region in England should have a dedicated Major Trauma Centre in place by the end of 2011/12.

An L&D spokesman said: "Many people seem preoccupied by the prospect of cuts in NHS services but we need to make it quite clear that the L&D is passionate about providing the best possible patient care, applying the best clinical expertise and using the best technology available."

"We are currently investing a further £3 million in redesigning our Emergency Department and see no prospect whatsoever of a reduction in the emergency services that we provide here."

"This is a good example of how we are investing money to improve access to high quality specialist services for patients in austere times."

Speedy shoppers' £2k clothing raid

THESE four men are wanted for questioning by police investigating the 'very organised' theft of thousands of pounds worth of clothing.

Stock worth £2,360 was snatched in just 90 seconds from racks in the Monsoon store in The Mall Luton.

PC Dermot Dunne said: "The men are very organised and it is possible that they are professional thieves who may have committed this type of crime in other areas of the country."

Anyone with information about the incident, which took place on June 8 at around 5.10pm, can contact PC Dunne on 01582 394116, or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Lengthy prison terms handed to Class A drugs gang

that flat in Farley Hill and found a drug-pressing factory with 2kg of heroin, a mechanical press, various white powders used to dilute purity of heroin ready for sale on the street, packaging materials and scales.

Khan, 28, pleaded guilty to four counts of conspiracy to supply heroin and cocaine at an earlier hearing at Luton Crown Court. On Thursday he was caged for 19 years.

Those others jailed for conspiracy to supply class A drugs were:

■ Mohammed Ayub, 21, of Bishopscote Road, Luton - ten years and six months (found guilty by a jury)

■ Kamran Bashir, 29, of Claremont Road, Luton - eight years and six months (found guilty by a jury)

■ Mohammed Sohil, 21, of Durbur Road, Luton - seven years (pleaded guilty)

■ Rizwan Khushal, 31, of Shaftesbury Road, Luton - eight years and six months (pleaded guilty)

■ Mohammed Tribak, 24, of Poplar, London - 13 years (pleaded guilty).

In May, Mohammed Hoque, 21, of London, was arrested in a taxi with £17,000 in cash - apparently the result of a drug deal in Cambridgeshire which he had just done on behalf of Khan.

Finally, after the evidence and intelligence had pointed to Khan being involved in all of the above incidents, Bedfordshire Police mounted a series of simultaneous raids in July 2010 to arrest Khan and his other Luton associates who had not already been brought into custody. Khan was living a lavish lifestyle in an exclusive flat and paying cash for luxury goods like Gucci shoes.

A major police operation has now seen 13 people convicted in separate court proceedings in Luton, London, Reading, Birmingham and St Albans.

Bedfordshire Police Detective Inspector Jon Gilbert said: "Khan and Tribak were getting the benefit of the huge amounts of cash generated by dealing the drugs. Khan in particular thought he had taken adequate precautions to evade detection by getting everyone else to do his dirty work for him."

"We never saw him handle drugs, and he seems to have directed all his transactions - even for paying rent on his smart flat - either in cash or via other people's bank accounts."

Memorial service will honour ex-police Chief Superintendent

POLICE flags will fly at half mast on Thursday as a mark of respect following the death of a former Chief Superintendent who served in the county for 16 years.

Ex-Bedfordshire Police officer Derek North was based in Bedfordshire after moving from Dunsbury in 1964 to join the newly formed Luton County Borough force. He rose through the ranks earning two promotions to Inspector in 1965 and finally Chief Superintendent in 1971 when he worked as a divisional commander in Dunstable.

Chief Supt North also operated in the Road Traffic division and was highly regarded for his organisational skills in dealing with the aftermath of motorway road collisions.

He died at York Hospital aged 80 after a short period of ill health.

A memorial service to celebrate his life will take place on Thursday at St Giles Church in Skelton, York, with a private cremation to follow.

EDL leader is banned from protest activity

EXCLUSIVE

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE leader of the English Defence League has been banned from organising or taking part in any of the group's protests as part of bail conditions.

Stephen Lennon, of Layham Drive, Luton, pleaded not guilty to a public order offence, which is alleged to have happened at an EDL rally in Luton town centre on May 26 against Euro MEP Richard Howitt.

At Luton Magistrates' Court on Wednesday, the 26-year-old was granted conditional bail to reappear before magistrates on October 31 for a trial.

As part of his conditions he must tell Luton police, within three days, if he is to move addresses.

He must also not knowingly organise, travel to, or participate in any march, demonstration, protest or similar within ten miles of Luton.

In addition he must not send any arti-

Stephen Lennon – who is also known as Tommy Robinson

cle, letter, fax or email that seeks to promote or publicise any match, demonstration or protest in the open air within ten miles of Luton.

At a hearing at Blackburn Magistrates' Court on June 24 in relation to an assault, he has been granted the same bail conditions, which also ban him from the above but which occur more than ten miles from the centre of Luton.

He was also ordered by Blackburn magistrates to report to Luton Police station every Saturday between midday and 2pm, but he was unable to do so yesterday as he was on holiday.

If he breaks any of his bail conditions he can be imprisoned.

Mr Lennon, also known as Tommy Robinson, said: "It is pathetic.

"We have taken a stance that we will be peaceful, if not we would have been a rioting mob.

"We are an organised peaceful protest movement.

"These conditions mean I can't be leader of the EDL. They obviously want to get rid of me.

"This is about who I am, not what I am accused of doing."

He is due to stand trial at Preston Magistrates' Court for the assault charge on September 29.

Town hit by school closures as teachers march on strike

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

AROUND 400 teachers marched through Luton town centre as part of Thursday's national strike action.

The joint protest, staged by staff members from schools in Luton and Dunstable, began at the top of Market Hill at midday, with the procession ending at Wardown Park.

The strike was in response to Government plans which would see teachers working for longer, paying more into their pensions but not getting as much back.

Sarah Anderson, secretary of Central Bedfordshire's National Union of Teachers division, said: "There was a fantastic atmosphere. The people of Luton were sympathetic to what the strikers were saying."

"I want to stress that teachers do not want to be forced into striking. It is a measure of last resort for teachers. We want to be in our classrooms doing the job we do best and the job we love.

"We had no option but to take that action. The Government has made it quite clear it is not prepared to move on any of these particular points.

"We are sorry to the inconvenience caused to parents and we do sympathise with them but we would ask them for their support as we have major, grave concerns about the future of our children's education and being able to attract young graduates into the profession."

Central Bedfordshire Council, which covers Dunstable and the surrounding villages, does not know how many of its schools were affected by the strikes.

It gave schools the option to release information on the State of Schools section on its website, but only ten had opted to say that they had closed on Thursday.

That was in stark contrast with neighbouring authority Luton Borough Council, which published a definitive list of the 19 full closures within the town.

A Central Beds spokesman said: "We gave schools the option to publish their closures on the website themselves. As it was not a council decision to close the schools, it was not for us to make a list. Before Thursday's strike, we were aware of about 30 schools that closed."

The full closures in Luton were at Beechill Primary, Dallow Primary, Foxdell Infants, Hillborough Junior, Icknield Primary, Leagrave Primary School, Ramridge Primary, Richmond Hill, Someries Junior, St Joseph's Infants, St Joseph's Juniors, St Margaret of Scotland Primary, Tennyson Road Primary, The Meads Primary, Warden Hill Junior, Waulud Primary, Whitefield Primary, William Austin Infant and Junior and Woodlands Secondary.

Michelin-star chef to add spice to food festival

THIS year's Taste of Luton Food Festival will have a touch of Michelin-star quality with the attendance of the nation's favourite French chef – Jean-Christophe Novelli.

Jean-Christophe will help mark the official opening of the event on Saturday, September 10, in St George's Square, Luton.

The festival is focused on restaurants, bars, food retailers and producers offering a showcase of the high quality and diverse food experiences to be found in the town and surrounding area.

The 2009 festival attracted more than 7,000 visitors.

Mr Novelli said: "I am delighted to be taking part in this year's Taste of Luton.

Both my business and home are nearby and it is great to be able to support an event of this kind on my doorstep."

If you would like to take part in this year's festival contact Sinead McNamara on 01582 546265 or email sinead.mcnamara@luton.gov.uk or visit www.luton.gov.uk/foodfestival

Police reach a dead end over kids' project computer thefts

EXCLUSIVE

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

TENS of thousands of pounds worth of equipment was stolen from a children's project – but police are not investigating as there are 'no further lines of inquiry'.

On June 20, a teacher entered the classroom at Hatters Study Centre, in Ely Way, Luton, to discover that 15 Macbook Pros, five flip video cameras and other items were missing, valued at in excess of £20,000.

Former Luton Town employee Tony McCool, who worked as an under-12s coach at the club, launched a drawing competition project for children that uses digital media run out of the centre in conjunction with Active Luton and Luton Airport.

Mr McCool, who is now with Premier League outfit Queens Park

Rangers, said he had worked hard to get the project going, aimed at improving Luton's image, with the competition winners' efforts going on display at the airport.

He said: "The police would not even come out to the scene because the keys had been used when they were stolen."

"They immediately said there were no lines of inquiry."

"I find that just appalling, no-one can convince me that is justifiable. If my neighbour's door is open and I go in and steal their TV that is theft, so this must be too."

"What makes it more upsetting for me is that the children were meant to start on Wednesday but we didn't have the right equipment, though we managed to get some loaned from a company in Manchester."

Luton Town director Stephen Browne said: "We are very disappointed that the theft affects the educational programmes we run with our partner Active Luton."

"This directly affects the youth of Luton – all of whom come to us to support their school studies."

"The club is liaising closely with Bedfordshire Police."

Anyone with any information should contact Bedfordshire Police, or the club, and the information provided will be treated in the utmost confidence."

A police spokeswoman said: "No further lines of inquiry does not mean a crime is ignored."

"Many crimes receive an automatic police response to establish what evidence is available. Initial inquiries will be carried out to determine if there are any witnesses, forensic evidence or CCTV."

"Once the initial officer has completed all available lines of inquiry and there are no further possible lines of inquiry the crime report is filed."

"The crime report is kept on file and re-investigated if new evidence comes to light."

Man charged with murdering OAP in his own home

A MAN has been remanded in custody charged with the murder of a pensioner.

David Charles Spencer Clairmonte, 25, from Thornview Road, Houghton Regis, has been charged with the murder of Frederick Hodsdon, 69, who was found injured at his home in Vespers Close, Luton, on June 25.

Mr Hodsdon died at Luton & Dunstable Hospital later that night and a postmortem revealed the cause of death as head injuries.

Mr Clairmonte appeared before Luton Crown Court on Thursday. He will reappear at Crown Court on September 12 when he will be asked to enter a plea.

Homophobia put in schools' target zone

BY CHRISTINA JOHNSON
christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

A SURVEY by a teachers' union reveals that more than 94 per cent of teachers in secondary schools have seen or heard a homophobic incident.

The figures show 29 per cent of staff in Luton schools have been on the receiving end of homophobic abuse themselves and more than three-quarters of teachers believe homophobia is a serious issue demanding attention.

The survey was collated after a questionnaire was sent out to all National Union of Teachers members of all of the town's secondary schools in the spring.

NUT equalities officer Tony Fenwick said: "The findings of this survey are truly awful, but alas not that shocking, as they are more or less the same as the findings in other parts of the country."

"They show that homophobia is the elephant in the room."

Everybody can see it but they choose to tiptoe around it.

"In a town that prides itself on its cultural and racial diversity, however, the figures are particularly alarming."

"I have lived here for 17 years and always thought it an open and welcoming place for lesbians, gays and everyone else. But in our schools, the reality appears to be different."

"The ubiquitous use of the word 'gay' to mean 'bad' or 'of inferior quality' too often goes unchallenged, and if it remains unchallenged pupils will think that it's acceptable."

NUT president Nina Franklin said: "During my presidential year I am committed to supporting the work that is done to protect our young people and their teachers from homophobic bullying, and to trying to ensure that we can empower everyone to challenge and eradicate this prejudice from our schools."

The findings of the Luton Prevalence of Homophobia survey will be available to view in detail and discussed at Luton Central Library in St George's Square on Wednesday.

Martin Pratt, Luton Borough Council's director of children and learning, said: "In Luton we recognise that homophobia is an issue which should be actively addressed and therefore we welcome this survey as a way of advancing our understanding of the current situation and prompting us to take action to improve things in the future."

"As with all forms of discrimination homophobia is unacceptable in our schools and should be challenged."

A council spokesman added: "The survey results for Luton are very similar to the other cities and towns that the NUT has surveyed, which shows that this is a national problem and not specific to Luton."

Not guilty plea entered on harassment rap

A MAN has denied charges of harassment and sexual assault.

Rupinder Singh Khaira, 28, of Waldeck Road, Luton, appeared at Luton Magistrates' Court on Wednesday. Mr Khaira pleaded not guilty to a harassment charge, alleged to have been committed between April 4 and May 4, and one count of sexual assault on a female, aged over 16, on May 3.

He was granted conditional bail and will reappear before magistrates on August 24.

Situation beggars belief

SIR – I could not believe it when I read in your newspaper last week about how Luton is still unrepresented on the Bedfordshire Police Authority one month after the nominations were first rejected.

How on earth has this been allowed to drag on?

The police authority is a very important committee and for Luton to have no representation on there because councillors from the Labour and Liberal Democrat parties can't come to an agreement on the correct political representation it should have is absolutely ridiculous.

What will happen if three Labour councillors are elected to represent Luton, as they were more than a month ago, and they get rejected again by the police authority?

Is this circus going to be allowed to continue?

Those involved should stop bickering and get on with the job in hand – supporting Luton and its residents.

Kids vouchers donation

SIR – Colleagues at Sainsbury's Bramingham Park donated their unwanted Active Kids 2011 school vouchers to a local school.

Out of many nominations, Woodlands Secondary School in Marsh Farm was randomly chosen.

Woodlands Secondary School are a deserving winner as they help to promote an informed understanding of disabilities and a collaborative desire to identify and remove barriers to learning, achievement and progression into adulthood.

From all at Sainsbury's Bramingham Park, congratulations.

Station needs a lift

SIR – I was appalled when I read your page 14 story in the paper last week regarding the broken lift at Luton train station.

How are disabled people, those who have walking difficulties and those with pushchairs meant to access the station?

I understand that the council is facing an extremely tough time with all the cost-cutting measures that they have to implement but leaving a lift broken and making those who can't use the stairs go all the way around to the other entrance is totally unfair.

Also the excuse that parts take time to source seems a bit farcical – it has had at least three months to get them. Surely this is more than enough.

I'm sure this will only add to commuters' frustration with the train station – which has never had a good reputation.

In 2009 it was voted one of the worst in the country and it will take a hell of a lot of improvement to get rid of its bad name.

Parents need to learn

SIR – It has recently been reported that fewer than half of all parents remember to move hot drinks away from small children.

Latest surveys also show that most

Police need to be carrying guns

SIR – As a law-abiding citizen I have a lot of respect for the police.

On June 23, I watched Traffic Cops, on BBC1. I hope that what I saw was just for the camera.

Luton police came across as too polite, too soft.

They seemed to lack authority. They were sorry they had to arrest a Polish man who caused a death by dangerous driving in his home country.

Then there was the Asian copper who was fasting. He hadn't eaten or had a drink for 16 hours yet he was on the front line.

He got into a bit of a state while chasing a youth. If they are too scared to use their taser guns, ask Johnny Knoxville from Jackass to teach them. Their temperament was more like Sergeant Wilson from Dad's Army.

All jokes aside, you have to be brave and command respect to be a copper.

Political correctness and human rights have robbed them of their identity.

I think it's time for all cops to carry guns and know how to use them.

John Tucker
Bracklesham Gardens, Luton

parents do not store cleaning products safely or strapped their child into a high chair.

We know already that more than one million children are involved in accidents at home every year. As we mark Child Safety Week, we note that we can't let our society run on 'autopilot'.

We advise parents that simply being alert to the risks of injury which youngsters face is not enough. Accidents are inevitable and parents need to be more aware of what they can do when injuries occur.

That's why the British Red Cross has set up the Children First Aid website www.childrenfirstaid.redcross.org.uk a free online learning resource for parents and carers of children.

Some of the most common injuries are burns caused by ill-placed cups of coffee or tea, BBQs and hot surfaces. Quick intervention can decrease the severity of the burn, the distress to your little one and reduce potential scarring.

To treat a burn:

■ Run the injured area under cold running water for at least ten minutes

■ Once cooled, cover with kitchen film to prevent infection

■ Seek medical advice.

By having access to these easy to learn skills, parents and carers can reduce the seriousness of injury, promote recovery and ultimately save lives.

Spare animals suffering

SIR – Animal Aid has launched a new high-profile campaign, aimed at persuading medical research charities to stop funding animal experiments.

Our report, Victims of Charity, describes how charity-funded medical researchers have deliberately damaged monkeys' brains with toxic chemicals, systematically destroyed dogs' hearts, tormented mice in water mazes and injected them with cancerous tissue.

Our investigators – led by a medical doctor and a veterinary surgeon – concluded that years of animal-based research into cancer, dementia, heart disease and Parkinson's has not only caused immense animal suffering but has also been a wasteful and futile quest that has failed to advance the cause of human medicine.

Therefore, Animal Aid is urging people to donate only to the many medical charities that confine themselves to funding non-animal methods such as the use of donated human tissue, microdosing, computer modelling, imaging technologies, clinical observation, autopsy studies and epidemiology.

In addition, people can still help the patient support work of charities that do fund animal experiments by volunteering at the charities' therapy sessions, as well as one-to-one befriending and support.

A list of charities which do and don't fund animal experiments is available from Animal Aid or at www.animalaid.org.uk.

Please also ask for our campaign postcards addressed to four major charities that still fund animal research.

Discover joy of reading

SIR – Whenever I go on holiday I take a couple of changes of clothes – and at least ten books.

I've been a total bookworm since I was six years old and I know there are thousands of children who love reading just as much as I do.

Here's a chance to have a happy time this summer taking part in a special reading challenge to help raise money for a children's charity.

Over the next three months, children of all ages are invited to take part in the Big Book Challenge, in aid of The Children's Trust, Tadworth.

The aim is to encourage children to read as many books as possible during their summer break – come rain or shine.

Friends and family can sponsor them to raise money for the Children's Trust, a national charity which supports some of the UK's most profoundly disabled children.

No matter how old, everyone loves a good story.

It's a great opportunity for all the family to get involved.

The children at the trust will be joining in too with storytelling evenings and activities.

Every penny raised will make a positive difference to the lives of the children and families that The Children's Trust supports.

There's nothing like a good book, whether you're lying on a beach, sitting in a tent, or curled up on your own sofa at home.

It could be any kind of book – funny, fantasy, factual – whatever you or your child fancy.

I hope children and young people will really enjoy taking part in this challenge – and that a lot of money is raised to support the work of The Children's Trust.

Everyone who takes part will receive a certificate and those who raise over £50 in sponsorship will receive a free copy of The Bestest Ever bear poetry book. For more information and how to get started go to www.thechildrenstrust.org.uk/bigbook challenge or call 01737 365019.

Dame Jacqueline Wilson
On behalf of The Children's Trust

All in this together?

SIR – It is telling that in modern, affluent Britain, more than 13.5 million people, including 3.8 million children, are in financial need.

The report by the Fawcett Society (Single Mothers: Singled out) merely confirms what those of us working in this area are concerned about – the changes to welfare benefits could promote social inequality and penalise the worst off.

The full-time gender pay gap between women and men is 15.5 per cent, which is already one of the highest in Europe.

It is possible that the proposals could not only widen the gap between rich and poor further, but already marginalised women could be forced to bear the brunt.

While everyone accepts the need to swallow some very painful medicine in order to tackle the deficit, that medicine should be fairly distributed and not disproportionately impact those who already struggle to make ends meet.

Rob Tolan
Elizabeth Finn Care

Crying shame of LuDun

SIR – Most people in this town will by now know that Central Bedfordshire Council and the 'puppet' trustees recently achieved their long-held ambition in closing the LuDun sheltered workshop and putting 23 disabled workers on the dole.

Despite assurances that the trustees were only looking to dispose of some surplus equipment, auctioneers were pricing up the machinery long before the factory actually closed.

Well, the public auction took place on June 7, just 13 days after the last worker left the premises.

Everything from the office furniture to the building's recently-installed heating system went under the hammer, raising a grand total of £32,291 (plus VAT less auction fees), a fraction of the equipment's true worth as assets of a working factory.

The fact that even the fixtures and fittings were sold makes me think that demolition of the building itself is imminent. Who is otherwise going to use a building without a heating system?

The adjacent factory has already been flattened, so it would be very easy to push through onto the LuDun site and replace it all with housing.

Bearing in mind that the GMB union is pressing for a legal review of the closure it is my belief that Central Bedfordshire Council is looking to obliterate every trace of this once-proud little factory as quickly as possible in case it is asked to re-open it.

Amazing the haste in which these people can act when it is their own interests, isn't it?

LuDun was originally an independent charity. Then the council got involved and took over.

Now look at it – disabled workers who will probably never work again, and employment opportunities denied for the less able in the future.

It is enough to make you weep.

Strategy for future to proceed but will need some tweaking

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

A PLAN to build thousands of homes will go ahead – but amendments will need to be made to it to make sure it can be approved by a Government inspector.

At a meeting of Luton and South Bedfordshire Joint Committee last Friday options were put forward to either withdraw, defer or continue the Core Strategy, which sets out plans for housing, employment, roads, community facilities and schools for the next 15 years.

In May Inspector David Vickery called a meeting to discuss significant concerns about the content of the plan, which the committee believes will be able to continue.

In the meantime, there will be a number of changes to the strategy in light of comments made by the Planning Inspector, to make it clearer, details of which will be presented to the committee – which is made up of Luton and Central Bedfordshire councillors – when it next meets on July 29.

In addition, the two councils have pledged to work closely together in a bid to reassure the inspector they are committed to delivering the plan.

A joint statement from the chairman of the Joint Committee, Luton Cllr Roy Davis, and vice-chairman Central Beds Cllr Nigel Young, said: "It has been agreed to continue with the Core Strategy."

"We have responded positively to the suggestions of the Planning Inspector for improvements to our Core Strategy and we are grateful for the assistance that the Inspector has offered to date in ensuring we present the best possible plan to help our local communities grow in a sustainable way."

"Despite the challenges that remain, we are confident that goodwill on all sides will prevail, and that we will be allowed to provide the much needed jobs and housing for our area."

Consultations begin on planned new primary school

PLANS have been put forward to build a new primary school in Luton.

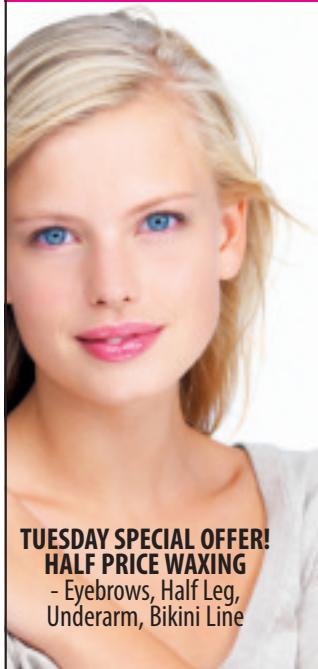

An application submitted to Luton Borough Council on June 13 revealed that a new car park, external paved areas and landscaping works to the banks of the River Lea next to the site are also proposed for the Wardown Swimming Centre site in Bath Road.

This is all to be built after the demolition of the leisure centre building.

Consultations on this were sent out last week and the deadline for comments is July 13.

Food safety team's

OUTBREAKS of E.coli have been widely reported in the news in recent weeks, with people in Britain getting ill after eating suspect food in Europe.

It is the job of one department of the council to deal with anything similar happening in the town.

The team of food safety inspectors at the authority are there to make sure no food outlets fall behind in hygiene and if they do, take necessary steps to make sure it doesn't happen again.

But, because of the cultural diversity of the town, there is a higher proportion of diseases such as typhoid.

Food safety officer Sara Hawkes explains how when people have lived in Asian countries they will most likely build up a tolerance to diseases such as typhoid.

But when they move to the UK they, more often than not, do not get vaccinated against the disease.

When they then go back their tolerance to typhoid has weakened and they are more susceptible to it.

Mrs Hawkes said: "It is something that we really want to make people aware of.

THE summer weather is finally here and that means barbecues galore. But for some it can turn into a nightmare if they do not prepare their food properly. Reporter SOPHIE SCOTT spoke to one of Luton Borough Council's food safety officers.

"Luton is slightly different to the rest of the East of England because of that."

And the team is prepared for any potential incoming illnesses aboard planes landing at Luton Airport.

Mr Hawkes added: "If needed, which they haven't been yet, they have a plan in place to deal with such an event."

In 2009 there were, on average, 4.6 infectious diseases reported to the council each week but in the last week of August that year it peaked at 12.

Mrs Hawkes said: "We turn up unannounced so the business doesn't know we are coming."

"We deal with infectious diseases such as food poisoning, travel related illnesses such as typhoid and general enquiries from the public."

"We inspect anywhere that serves or sells food; that could be from your corner shop to schools, hospitals, takeaways, restaurants. Every time we do an inspection we look at three main things.

"There are general hygiene conditions of the place, the structure of the premises and how clean the premises are. If there is flaking paint, damp, if there is bare brick.

"All the surfaces have to be clean and washable so if there is bare brick they can't be wiped clean.

"We also look at how the business is managed."

"Most of the time we don't find any problems and if there are they can be resolved by giving advice."

"But there are occasions when we do have to prosecute but that is usually in exceptional circumstances."

"We sometimes get our best intelligence from the public. We are always out and about in the town."

"We score businesses on a star rating from zero, which is the worst, to five, which is exceptional, and anywhere in between."

F We turn up unannounced so the business doesn't know we are coming. We deal with infectious diseases such as food poisoning, travel related illnesses such as typhoid and general enquiries from the public

HYGIENE: Food safety officer Sara Hawkes

There is a risk to people who are having barbecues.

Mrs Hawkes says if you follow this advice you should be safe:

- Don't leave food out of the fridge for long periods
- Wash and peel all your vegetables

- Do not eat raw beansprouts
- You do not need to wash chicken before cooking, this can spread bacteria, but make sure it is cooked thoroughly, is piping hot and not pink when serving
- Always use different tongs or forks for handling raw and cooked food. To check out more safety advice go to www.luton.gov.uk and to find out how a business is rated by the council go to www.luton.gov.uk/foodscores or visit the council's Twitter page at www.twitter.com/lutoncouncil

Pensioners have the right to enjoy a pint, or more

MY dad liked a beer, by which I mean several beers. This appetite did not diminish after he retired, so, were he still alive, he would be fuming about the latest nanny-state proclamation.

Health bureaucrats are warning us that some people who are more than 65 years old are drinking too much.

Worse still, according to nanny, they are mainly doing it at home, where no-one can see it and thereby control it. They are probably drinking it at home not from choice but because they can't afford to go out any more. But back to the story.

What is even more alarming, says nanny, is not only that they are drinking too much and drinking at home but they should not be drinking what is good for the rest of us because their blood is thinner and they are likely to be on pills.

So pensioners should be restricted to half a pint a day. I can hear my dad's snort of derision from the grave.

The report calls on the Government to take action about this great problem and to make sure GPS screen every person over 65 for substance misuse.

So, one of the few pleasures left to people who have retired, if they are lucky enough to afford it, of nipping to their local for a bit of company while downing a few pints, is to be denied. And doctors will also no doubt have to check if they are taking more than their prescribed limit of pills, in case they get a kick from it.

While they are at it, they can also ban viagra to the over-65s, as too much exertion might be bad for them.

Or everyone could just back off and recognise these people, along with all other adults, have a right to live their life as they see fit, providing they are not breaking the law or harming others. And if it shortens their lives a bit because of their behaviour, so be it.

As has been said, cutting out alcohol does not lengthen your life, it just feels like it.

Why does the state feel it has the right to continually interfere in its citizens' lives?

Surely the Government is struggling enough trying to cope with the matters that are in its remit, without having to worry about a few pensioners who may be relaxing in the garden with a pint in front of them.

Once they have sorted out the debt crisis, the economy, the NHS, education, defence cuts, the EU, immigration and a fairer justice system, pensioners will have a word to say to them. Likely it will be 'cheers'.

A NICE little row is brewing over what Bedford's cafe society should look like.

Some are less than happy at having a mobile food van parked on The Embankment, while others think it's just fine and dandy. Do we want a posh cafe society, or just more caffs? I'm all for posh. More to the point, why cannot The Embankment Hotel have chairs by The Embankment, which would happen in every other country in Europe. And if the council wants to be pro-active, why does it not use its facilities in the Harpur Suite to serve a cafe in Harpur Square?

Arrests after two victims injured in assault

TWO people were arrested after a 29-year-old man was attacked and had his jaw broken.

The 19-year-old man and 21-year-old woman have both been released on bail as police continue the investigation into the assault outside The Exchange Club in King Street, Luton, which also left the victim with a shattered cheekbone.

It happened at around 3.55am on June 26 and officers are seeking information from the public regarding a third person involved in the attack.

Detective Constable Mark Bryce, investigating, said: "We believe another person was involved in this incident and he is described as a black man, approximately 5ft 11ins tall with a medium build."

"He was wearing dark shoes, dark jeans, a black jumper and a black beanie hat.

"It is important that anyone who witnessed this assault or anyone who has information about the identity of this third person speaks to the police."

Anyone with information can contact Det Con Bryce, in confidence, on 01582 394193, or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Blade attack boy, 16, suffers head wound

BY CHRISTINA JOHNSON

christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

A TEENAGER was attacked by a man with a knife and suffered a four inch wound to his forehead.

The 16-year-old was in Garrett's Mead, Luton, when he was approached by a man in his early 20s who used the knife to cut the victim's face and ear.

The attacker is described as a black man, around 6ft tall with short black hair and wearing a grey hooded top.

Detective Sergeant Marie Gresswell is keen to trace anyone who saw the incident which took place on June 20.

Anyone with information can contact her, in confidence, on 01582 394280.

In a separate knife attack, last week a convenience store was robbed and its staff threatened with a blade.

A man entered Leona Polish Groceries in Strathmore Avenue, Luton and demanded the till be opened.

Frightened by what was happening the member of staff opened the cash draw and the robber took a quantity of money before leaving the scene.

Detective Constable Tom Stean said: "The shop assistant was left shocked by what had happened but she did the right thing not to challenge the offender who was holding a knife.

"I would like to urge anyone who has information that may help trace who was responsible for this crime to contact the police and they can give information completely anonymously."

The robber, who struck at around midday on June 25, is described as a white man wearing a blue hooded top and a bandana over part of his face.

Anyone with information can contact Det Con Stean, in confidence, on 01582 394029, or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

BARTON HILLS ONLY ESTATE AGENT | COVERING THE LUTON AREA

ATTENTION ALL HOMEOWNERS!

As a country, we are seeing the toughest property market for years. It's hard on everyone – buyers, sellers and estate agents alike. As independent estate agents, we know that new business is difficult to gain; but we are alarmed at the desperate techniques we are seeing employed by some agencies – these strategies give us all a bad name.

Pushy sales techniques – a no-obligation valuation turns into an exercise in forbearance for the poor home owner as he desperately tries to get rid of the negotiator trying to get him to sign a contract he isn't ready to commit to – a contract that will tie him in for up to 5 months with an agent he is already stressed with.

Some agencies even over-value a property in order to gain an instruction. This looks great on paper, but not so great when the property is advertised week after week with no offers – and definitely no sales - until the same agent that valued the property in the first place recommends the vendor reduce the price. To closer to what it should have been in the first place, of course.

And we are risking a national tree shortage due the sheer volume of cards and leaflets being delivered through the letterboxes of potential vendors – sometimes 7 or 8 in a week from the same agent to the same property – all of which inform the owner 'we may have good news for you'...or we may not...

Agents also know the importance of high board presence. Board presence is important, no doubt about it; but a high volume of 'for sale' boards does not equate to a high volume of sales. And an agency that looks like it gains a high volume of instructions looks reliable – but take a closer look...some of these boards may not be what they seem...sneaky, huh?

Ok, so why choose Major Move? Because we don't employ tactics. We do our job. We offer a free, no-obligation valuation where we will discuss your property, the marketing options and give you a fair and reasonable valuation. Then we leave. We market and advertise your property in such a way as to give it maximum possible exposure; all our properties are advertised on the Rightmove, Find a Property and Prime Location websites, and we also carry a weekly two-page spread in the local newspaper. This one in fact.

We will stay in regular contact, and pro-actively pursue all potential buyers until your property is sold. If the property is struggling to sell, we will discuss with you possible reasons, and potential solutions. That's it. No tricks, no techniques – just good business.

Workshops to help you get started up in your business

christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

THIS summer, Business Link is urging would-be entrepreneurs in Bedfordshire to take the plunge and seek help with turning business dreams into a reality.

Business Link's start-up professionals are running a Summer Start-ups campaign to help the county's residents get a taste for what it's like to run a business and get started on the journey to self-employment.

With a series of free workshops to help with everything from making decisions about whether to start up, right through to writing a business plan and finding customers, Summer Start-

Ups really does provide something for everyone. Graham Coultas, head of Start-up at Business Link in the East of England, said: "The Summer Start-ups campaign provides local entrepreneurs with a range of free and impartial services to really benefit them in turning business interest into action."

"In fact, our research shows that start-ups using the support on offer from Business Link are 18 per cent more likely to survive for more than three years than those with no support."

"Becoming your own boss can be rewarding, but many of us have no idea how to get started, or even whether starting a business is the best option."

"That's where Business Link comes in: we help thousands of people to start-up in business each year and it's our job to provide support from the very start, right through to the first days of trading and beyond."

The first step is coming along to the 'Is it for me?' workshop, so book now by visiting www.startupbusinesslink.east.co.uk

In the past year, Business Link in the East of England has provided help and advice to a staggering 13,722 entrepreneurs in the early stages of starting a business, with ongoing support given to 3,636 firms in the first year of trading.

For more information on the support available from Business Link in the East of England call 08457 171 615 or email questions@businesslinkeast.org.uk

Emerging markets becoming an key part of investment portfolios

RECENTLY, the merits of investing in UK equities for income in the current environment of record low interest rates and high inflation have been highlighted.

A carefully selected portfolio of high-yielding FTSE 100 companies can provide dividend growth as well as inflation-beating returns. However, investors are increasingly turning to global emerging markets where it is possible to find established companies with solid growth prospects and progressive dividend policies. Some Thai and Taiwanese firms have produced double-digit dividend growth over the past five years, while Brazilian firms are compelled to pay out at least 25 per cent of their earnings as dividends.

Investment managers at Charles Stanley's Bedford office believe emerging markets are becoming an essential part of investment portfolios because dividend payments are highly concentrated in the London stockmarket with the top ten yielding shares providing almost 50 per cent of the total dividend income.

Managed funds and investment trusts can partially mitigate the well-publicised risks associated with emerging markets, while gaining exposure to favourable demographics, a nascent consumer culture, higher corporate profitability and a decreasing reliance on Western markets to support their exports.

Companies warned to be aware of fraudulent firms

christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

LUTON Borough Council's Trading Standards Service is warning businesses to take care when dealing with any organisation offering goods or services, such as placing an advertisement in a newspaper or when buying products like stationery, toner or ink cartridges.

Just as consumers are being subjected to an increasing number of scams, the danger is that businesses can easily fall victim as well.

Trading Standards is currently investigating reports of companies advertising goods or services where either the company or the goods appear to be unreal or misleading.

Scam companies often have impressive websites and advertisements about their services, but this is just a smoke screen.

Cllr Mohammed Ashraf, portfolio holder for Trading Standards, said: "Buyer beware should be your motto."

"Before you part with your money, make a few simple checks to ensure the company you are using to place your advertisement or to buy products or services from is genuine. If you haven't used them before, try checking their name, address and telephone number and ask around to see if anyone else has used them."

If you are a business and think you have been approached by a scammer, call Trading Standards on 01582 547262.

Council need sample for economic climate survey

BUSINESSES are being asked to give their views on what Luton Borough Council and other partners can do to help them by filling out an online survey.

The Bedfordshire & Luton Joint Business Survey, which is being conducted by BMG research, has been commissioned alongside Central Bedfordshire and Bedford Borough Councils in order to provide a valuable and up to date picture of the current economic climate for companies.

Results from the survey will highlight key issues facing businesses, as well as what the council can do to help with these challenges.

A sample of 250 businesses in Luton will be contacted directly by telephone. The council is also encouraging all other businesses in the area to take part in the survey online, in order to provide the widest possible feedback.

Cllr Roy Davis, executive member for regeneration, said: "The more businesses which fill out the survey, the better quality of information we receive."

"The aim is for the council to fully understand exactly what businesses want us to do right now in order to help them.

"The survey only takes around 20 minutes to complete, and you will be helping to contribute to the overall regeneration and prosperity of local businesses in Bedfordshire. I would strongly encourage all local companies to take part."

Advice on how to sell your business for a huge profit

christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

BUSINESS owners wanting to hoist the 'for sale' sign in order to spend more time with their families and friends, or even move on to their next project, often turn to their accountant as the first crucial step to selling their greatest asset, which may not always be a good thing.

This is the view of international mergers and acquisitions specialist BCMS Corporate.

BCMS Corporate, which sells more mid-market private companies in the UK than any other corporate finance house, is offering those who are considering a sale now or within the next three years - as well as those who are just curious about the value of their business - the chance to attend a free seminar on July 19, at Luton Hoo Hotel.

One in a series of half-day seminars taking place across the country over the next six months, the instructive corporate event will present seasoned mergers and acquisitions experts who will answer delegates' questions as well as give practical advice on hot topics, such as finding ideal potential buyers, generating a competitive bidding process, and negotiating and closing the right deal for the maximum value.

The event's two informative sessions are crammed with facts and real examples of companies that have been brought to market successfully (or unsuccessfully), providing business owners on the Hertfordshire and Bedfordshire borders with insights into the factors that can influence a business sale as well as revealing why so many companies fail to sell, what motivates buyers to pay more and, more importantly, how to get the maximum value.

As a bonus at the end of the seminar, delegates will be given an invaluable 78-point checklist to get them started on their journey to a successful business sale as well as a free copy of the publication 'A Refreshingly Different Approach to Selling your Business for its Maximum Value'.

Dave Rebbettes, director of BCMS Corporate, said: "These informative, fast-paced sessions aim to give owners and shareholders of businesses with a turnover exceeding £1 million in the Luton area sound advice based on 20 years experience of selling businesses."

"By the end of the seminar, attendees will know how to go about generating maximum value for their business, which will consequently give them the financial freedom to spend more time with family and friends, or even to get started on their next project."

To attend this seminar, book online at www.bcmscorporate.com or call 01635 296073. There is no charge for the half-day event, but places are limited.

New initiative is a 'win-win'

A NEW initiative aimed at providing businesses with expert advice and support is set to be launched on Tuesday.

The Timebank initiative, will be at Central Bedfordshire's Business Growth Clinic in West Park, Silsoe, and will match providers of business services such as marketing, financial planning, sales and HR to businesses that are looking to start up, grow or move into the area.

The packages on offer include a free initial consultation on a wide range of business related topics with the aim of building long term relationships between companies.

Timebank will provide a support service when Business Link East ceases operation in November.

Cllr Ken Matthews, executive member for Strategic Planning and Economic Development at Central Bedfordshire Council, said: "Timebank offers a 'win-win' solution to local businesses."

"It's a great business development opportunity for those providing services and free initial business support for those looking to set up or grow."

"We are committed to achieving 27,000 new jobs by 2026 and we will encourage businesses to work together to help each other achieve this."

"We aim to get 50 businesses offering services to the Timebank within the first year of operation."

If you are a business service provider in Central Bedfordshire and would like to sign up for the Timebank or would like to attend one of the free business clinics operated in conjunction with

Sort out your tax benefits over the phone

YOU can now sort out your business rates, pay your council tax, or get information on your housing and council tax benefits by telephone 24/7.

After the success of the out-of-hours only telephone service introduced in Luton last year, the council is now operating an automated self-service for a range of services.

For business rates, you should call 0300 790 0349, for council tax, you dial 0300 790 0340 and for housing and council tax benefit, it is 0300 790 0345.

After dialling the relevant number, you press a number on your telephone key pad during the introduction - described as a hot key - to link you to the service you want at whatever time of day or night suits you.

You will then hear more information and advice.

Calls are charged at a local rate. Cllr Robin Harris, portfolio holder for business transformation and efficiency, said: "We were pleased with the success of the out-of-hours enquiry service launched last year."

"The new service means people can access the service at a time most convenient for them, day or night."

The 24/7 service has already been successfully tried and tested by other authorities across the country including Ealing and Medway.

Food festival to the recipe of success to local eateries

BY JULIA SUTTON

editor@lsmmedia.com

SUPPORTING local restaurants, bars and food businesses is the focus of this year's Taste of Luton Food Festival.

Across the country food festivals are becoming recognised as an excellent way for towns to support and promote their local food and leisure businesses and consequently the local economy as a whole.

Luton Borough Cllr Roy Davis, executive member for regeneration, said: "As well as giving local people a fun event, we want to use the day as a platform to support these businesses and the leisure economy in the town."

"This is a challenging time for everyone and we aim for the festival to provide an ideal opportunity for these businesses to promote themselves and what they have to offer."

"This will be especially valuable at a time when people are considering Christmas parties and celebrations."

"We aim to continue our relationship with participating local businesses and organisations beyond the life of the food festival by working in partnership to develop a long-term range of initiatives to encourage people into the town at night."

"This will include establishing a forum of local businesses and organisations, such as

Food on offer at last year's Taste of Luton Cultural Food Festival

SoLUTIONs, that have a stake in the night-time economy."

The Taste of Luton Food Festival will take place on Saturday, September 10, in St George's Square.

It will officially open at 10.30am and close at 6pm. The celebrity guest on the day is local chef Jean Christophe Novelli.

The stall hire fee is £50 for those intending to cook and/or serve hot food and who require us to provide equipment.

A fee of £15 will be charged to community groups or to those serving cold or dry goods and only requiring stall space.

Ian Williams gets £50m maintenance contract

A MANAGEMENT company has secured a £50 million contract to provide maintenance and repair work for a housing association.

Ian Williams has signed up to a ten-year agreement with Bedfordshire Pilgrims Housing Association (BPHA) which will see it deliver a full range of services including repairs, refurbishment of empty homes, kitchen and bathroom renewals as well as decoration and external works.

The company will work in partnership with a number of other providers, including Mears, Hurley Electrical Contractors and TSG, to maintain the housing association's growing portfolio of 15,000 homes across the East of England.

Development director Mike Turner said: "We are delighted to have been awarded the contract by BPHA. The housing association is a proactive organisation that is committed to developing and increasing its stock which makes for a strong partnership with Ian Williams."

"This new contract helps secure Ian Williams' position as one of the country's leading facilities management companies."

Head of property services at BPHA, Julie Wittich, said that the new contract was awarded based on the organisation's proven background in providing quality and value for money in both work and customer services.

She added: "We engaged in a rigorous search to find the best contractors – organisations that would want to partner with us to deliver these vital services."

"We spend a substantial amount of money every year maintaining the inside and outside of our properties for our residents, so we wanted to appoint contractors with a good track record that would help us to meet the aspirations of our customers and create places where people are proud to live."

BY CHRISTINA JOHNSON

A FORMER director of Great Ormond Street Hospital has returned to her Luton roots to set up a business specialising in caring for older people in their own homes.

Maria Collins (pictured), a current trustee of Keech Hospice Care, has set up the latest office of Home Instead Senior Care at Basepoint Innovation and Business Centre, Great Marlings in Luton.

Raised and educated in Luton, Maria trained as a nurse at Luton & Dunstable Hospital before moving to London as a specialist nurse working at five different teaching hospitals.

She returned to Luton to set up a district-wide infection control service at the time that HIV first emerged in the UK.

Having been sent to the US on a study tour, Maria set up the first community HIV support service outside London.

While working as an independent health consultant, Maria has also used her nursing skills to care for the needs of both of her parents and supported a friend with motor neurone disease. Through this hands-on experience she believes, there are opportunities to continually improve and develop social care to meet the changing needs of our ageing population and those that have care needs arising from long term conditions.

She said: "I have returned to my nursing roots and developed a very strong vision of the way people should be cared for. I have seen for myself that with good quality care people can remain in their own homes for longer which is what so many people really want. I was really impressed with Home Instead. This was a company that was very proud of and, quite rightly, protective of its standards and I felt that they selected prospective franchisees very carefully which is something I respected them for."

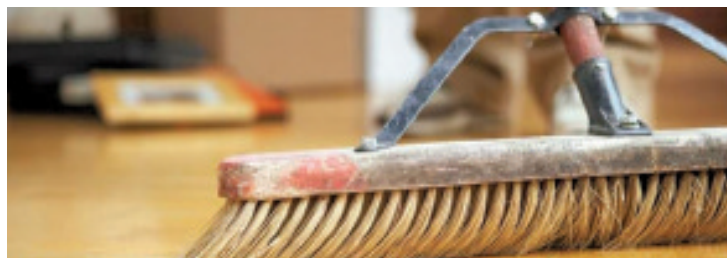

Maria is now looking to recruit people from the Luton area who would like to become a care-giver.

She added: "We need people with caring and compassionate natures who want a rewarding and flexible career delivering care to people in their own homes. We offer full training so experience is not necessary but candidates may have had personal experience such as looking after a loved one which they have enjoyed."

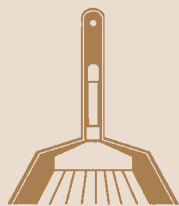

Home Instead Senior Care is an award-winning national company which is changing the way care is delivered in the UK and is rapidly building a reputation as one of the UK's leading care companies.

Their service is tailored to the needs of individual clients and ranges from companionship, meal preparation, light housekeeping, post-discharge care, personal care, medication reminders, shopping and errands.

Review your everyday life to find more ways to recycle

BY CHRISTINA JOHNSON
christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

AS part of national Recycle Week last week, Central Bedfordshire Council encouraged residents to recycle, whether at home, work or out and about.

The current recycling rate for Central Bedfordshire stands at more than 50 per cent but the council is aiming to raise this to 60 per cent by 2020.

Cllr Brian Spurr, executive member for Sustainable Communities Services at Central Bedfordshire Council, said: "Residents in Central Bedfordshire are already doing a great job within their homes, it is also about transferring that mentality wherever we are, be it out on a picnic during the summer months, at work or travelling about. Don't just put rubbish in the bin, think about what could be recycled or composted first."

"We need people to ask themselves a few questions such as do you recycle from every room in your house, even the bathrooms? Does your place of work have recycling facilities? If so, do you use them and could you ask your employer to do more? Do you recycle when you are out and about, when you're shopping and when you're on holiday?"

"By spending just a few extra seconds thinking about recycling, whether at home or away, we could reduce the amount of waste going to landfill further and increase our recycling rates even higher."

Here are some home and away recycling advice and tips.

At home: Recycling bins are often found in the kitchen, but are rarely found in the bathroom despite this being where you'll find lots of recyclable plastic bottles such as shower gel, shampoo and conditioner containers.

These can all be recycled along with your paper, cardboard, cartons, plastic food packaging, tins, cans, foil and worn out textiles. Tip: When the bottle is almost empty, take off the lid and add a little water. This will make it go further and help rinse out the container ready for recycling.

In the community: Visit one of more than 100 recycling banks across Central Bedfordshire to recycle your glass bottles and jars. You can also recycle textiles at a number of the banks.

At work: Make use of any recycling schemes you have available to you such as recycling of paper, toner cartridges, mobile phones, plastic drinks cups and confidential waste.

If you don't have recycling schemes, why not ask your company if they could introduce them. Tip: What happens to all those tea bags, coffee grinds and fruit peelings in your office? If your place of work has an outside space, why not see if you can have a compost bin. You could have a caddy in the kitchen to collect all those organic items and turn them into compost.

At school: More than 90 per cent of schools in Central Bedfordshire receive a recycling service from the council, so make the most of this and install a recycling point in each classroom.

There are also many private sector companies which can offer used printer cartridge, old mobile phone or aluminium can recycling.

If recycling is part of a school ethos then students are more likely to develop good environmental behaviours. Tip: Check out the school's recycling guide.

At the supermarket: Supermarkets are making great strides in helping their customers to recycle, from recycling carrier bags, coat hangers, mobile phones, batteries, glass and textile banks with some supermarket cafés now recycling their food waste.

Law firm secures CQS accreditation

A LAW firm has secured membership of the Law Society's Conveyancing Quality Scheme (CQS) – the mark of excellence for the home-buying process.

Knowles Benning LLP, which has offices in George Street West, Luton, and West Street, Dunstable, underwent rigorous assessment by the Law Society in order to secure CQS status, which marks the firm out as meeting high standards in the residential conveyancing process.

It is the first law firm in any of its towns to receive this accreditation from the Law Society.

Law Society President Linda Lee said that the Law Society introduced CQS to recognise quality standards in the home-buying process.

She said: "CQS improves efficiency with common, consistent standards and service levels and enables consumers to recognise practices that provide a quality residential conveyancing service."

"Buying a home is one of the largest purchases anyone will make in their lifetime, so it is essential that it is done to the highest standard by a solicitor. There are many different conveyancing service providers out there, making it difficult for home buyers to identify those which can ensure a safe and efficient level of service."

Steve Atkins, partner at Knowles Benning LLP, said: "We are delighted to be one of the first firms in the area to secure the CQS accreditation, which I believe will be the benchmark for best practice in the property market for years to come. It underlines our commitment to providing an efficient and secure service with our client's best interests at the heart of everything we do."

For more information on the CQS visit www.lawsociety.org.uk/cqs

Lettings franchise takes award for second consecutive year

BY CHRISTINA JOHNSON

christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

LETTINGS specialist Belvoir is celebrating once again after scooping major honours in both the 2011 Lettings Agency of the Year Awards and the annual awards scheme run by the British Franchise Association (BFA).

Belvoir, which has an office on Marsh Road, in Luton, run by Adrian Mason, was presented with 'Silver' at the Lettings Agency of the Year Awards, run in association with the Sunday Times and the Times.

It is the second consecutive win for the company in this major competition, judged by top industry experts, including The Property Ombudsman.

In the BFA Awards, Belvoir was also named 'Brand Builder of the Year', in recognition of the hard work which Mr Mason, along with other franchisees in the Belvoir Group, have put into refreshing the company's image in the market place over the past year.

At the awards, Olympic gold medalist Dame Kelly Holmes, handed over the trophy to Belvoir managing director, Dorian Gonsalves, who said: "Winning such an award for two consecutive years in the Best Lettings Agency Franchise category is testament to the pride, passion and dedication shown by all our franchise owners in delivering consistent and outstanding customer service to their local landlord and tenant clients. It is a fantastic tribute to the entire network."

The judges stated: "Belvoir's franchise offering continues to impress and the judges are pleased to recognise the maintaining of the high standards shown previously."

"This lettings-only agency has established an exceptional brand, demonstrating professionalism and high standards at every level. Belvoir's team has established itself as experts and not only have profits increased, but a strong and steady growth of franchise applicants reinforces the high regard in which this franchise business is held by local owners themselves."

Dame Kelly Holmes, Belvoir managing director, Dorian Gonsalves, and Anthony Gaskell – regional manager of Endsleigh, sponsors of the best Lettings Agency Franchise category

Griffin sign a reminder of Vauxhall's presence

THE VAUXHALL van factory building now has a brand new Griffin sign.

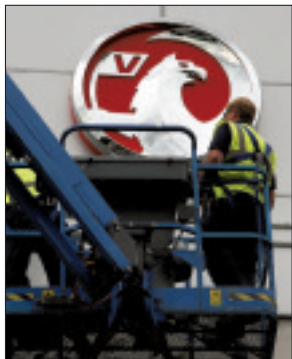

The firm, which had been in crisis over the past couple of years as a result of GM's financial problems, celebrated the decision in March to construct the new Vivaro van at Luton's Kimpton Road plant.

The Griffin emblem, put up two weeks ago in place of the old GM sign, now sits prominently on the building, 'reminding visitors of Vauxhall's presence and long-standing heritage in Luton'.

The following day a 'Home of the Vauxhall Vivaro' sign went up.

The decision to build the new Vivaro from the end of 2013 quashed fears the existing contract between Vauxhall and French counterpart Renault, which had been due to run out in 2013, to use the site could spell doom for 1,100 factory worker jobs there.

Plant director Mark Stein said: "Recent developments here in Luton prove that dedication and focus on the job in hand find recognition on all levels – in the market, internally and also with the Government.

"The new Griffin will remind everybody of Vauxhall's long-standing manufacturing presence in Luton, building best of British commercial vehicles."

In January the Football Association has unveiled a new three-and-a-half year sponsorship deal with Vauxhall.

The agreement runs from January 1, 2011, to July 31, 2014, covering the time period of Euro 2012 in Poland-Ukraine and the 2014 World Cup in Brazil.

As well as covering the men's national team, the deal also covers sponsorship of the other 23 representative England teams.

In April, David Cameron dubbed Vauxhall's Kimpton Road plant a 'great British success story' after he toured the plant as part of a national campaign trail ahead of the elections.

The Prime Minister said: "I must say what a pleasure it is to be here and I look at this as a great British success story concerning the record you have here and the future in terms of the new generation Vivaro van. I was looking at some of the figures – the fact you have done 12 million hours without a single lost day to safety or any other problem is an incredible record."

"I'm rather worried I'm spoiling it because the line is not moving while I am here. I think you are exactly the sort of business we need more of in Britain."

Corfu is a new destination for Monarch

BUDGET airline Monarch has expanded its scheduled programme from Luton Airport to include Corfu.

This service will operate on Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays and prices start from £68.99 one way including taxes and charges.

Simon Harley, business development manager at Luton Airport, said: "It is great to announce the start of this new scheduled service to Corfu with one of our trusted partners, Monarch, which has built on the success of its charter flights last year."

"With excellent weather, beautiful beaches, a wealth of historical sites and other tourist attractions, Greece is one of the sunshine destinations of choice for discerning travellers. Corfu even has the added advantage for sports lovers of being the home of Greek cricket."

This route is the 12th scheduled destination operated by Monarch from Luton Airport and summer 2011 will see a further 20,000 passengers attracted by low cost affordable air travel within easy reach of London, the South East and the Midlands.

Monarch is one of the UK's largest charter airlines, operating to Europe, the United States, the Caribbean, India and Africa, serving mainly leisure destinations. It also operates scheduled flights to many Mediterranean destinations, the Canary Islands, Cyprus, Egypt, Greece and Turkey.

The airline's main base and headquarters is at Luton Airport with other operational bases at Manchester, London Gatwick and Birmingham.

BBC2, 9pm

Having seemingly circumnavigated the British Isles about half a dozen times, the makers behind this show have had to come up with new ways of showcasing our coastal areas. So, after looking at estuaries, rivers and even travelling to the likes of Norway, France and Holland in earlier episodes, the boffins decide to try a bit of island hopping around the Western Isles and out to Shetland. Here, map man Nick Crane gets invited to a golden wedding knees-up - along with every other resident of the island of Eriskay. Meanwhile, fossil detective Hermione Cockburn tests the acoustic qualities of Fingal's Cave on the island of Staffa.

Breakfast club

– with Heart FM's
Stuart and Natalie

IT's been another busy week and we were pleased to chat to long serving Dragon, Duncan Bannatyne who has a new book out.

We spoke to him after he'd done a load of interviews that morning so he was a bit jaded!

As a result we were a little nervous about how he would feel playing along with our Stuart and Natalie's 'Den-style interview'.

Stuart started by asking Duncan why we should invest five minutes of our valuable time hearing him promote his book.

He told us: "You'll learn how not to make mistakes in business and you'll get the advice on how to be more successful than me or Peter Jones or even Theo Paphitis." We then asked him why his book is so different to Peter Jones' recent one.

Surely this is just a case of another book about how to make money in business.

He replied, his tongue firmly in his cheek: "Have you read his book?"

Those Dragons are seriously competitive.

After much deliberation Stuart decided the idea of promoting a book on a radio show wasn't original enough so declared himself 'out'.

I said I would be happy to 'invest' if Duncan gave me free gym membership.

Duncan struck a hard bargain saying: "I'll give you free membership if you go four times a week and every week you don't go, you have to give me £50." Good motivation to get in shape I reckon.

We also heard from Chris O'Dowd, star of the IT Crowd and currently appearing as the cute cop in Bridesmaids.

If you've not heard this movie is the latest 'female comedy', not a chic flick.

Chris said to any guys refusing to see it to 'get over themselves, it's funny'.

Personally I loved it and gave it 10/10.

Stuart and Natalie present Heart Breakfast Monday to Friday 6am-10am on Heart 96.6FM.

The above Order made on 24 June 2011 under Section 257 of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 if confirmed will stop up part of Footpath No 5, Houghton Regis as shown on the Order map.

The length of Footpath No 5, Houghton Regis to be stopped up extends from Ordnance Survey Grid Reference (OS GR) TL 0175 2376 south west for approx 51 metres to OS GR TL 0171 2373.

Under section 257 of The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 "a competent authority may by order authorise the stopping up or diversion of any footpath, bridleway or restricted byway if they are satisfied that it is necessary to do so in order to enable development to be carried out".

The land over which this part of Footpath No 5, Houghton Regis passes has been granted planning permission to build a retail superstore, access and parking, highways works, landscaping and associated works (Planning Ref: CB/10/03110/FULL). The Public Footpath would be obstructed by the development unless it is stopped up. Central Bedfordshire Council consider it necessary to stop up the footpath in order to allow the development to take place.

A copy of the Order and the Order map have been placed and may be seen free of charge at the offices of Central Bedfordshire Council, Countryside Access Team, Technology House, Ampthill Road, Bedford MK42 9BD between 9.00am and 5.00pm on Mondays to Thursdays and between 9.00am to 4.00pm on Fridays. Copies of the Order and map may be bought there. An explanatory statement can be obtained by phoning 0300 300 6249.

Any representations or objections relating to the Order must be sent in writing to the Orders and Commons Registration Officer, Countryside Access Team, Central Bedfordshire Council, Technology House, Ampthill Road, Bedford MK42 9BD not later than 3 August 2011. Please state the grounds on which they are made.

If no such representations or objections are duly made, or if any so made are withdrawn, Central Bedfordshire Council may confirm the Order as an unopposed Order. If the Order is sent to the Secretary of State for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs for confirmation any representations and objections which have not been withdrawn will be sent with the Order.

McDonnell and Clorley get shot at Euro glory

ATHLETICS

TWO Luton Athletics Club long distance runners have been selected to represent Great Britain in the U23 European Championships in Ostrava, Czech Republic, later this month.

John McDonnell (pictured above) got the call after claiming silver in the 5,000 metre final at the England Athletics Under-23 and Under-20 Championships in Bedford last weekend.

The youngster came home in a time of 14:17.17 behind winner Ross Arthur Millington of Stockport Harriers.

Their selection will be welcome news for club-mate Daniel Clorley who did not finish in the final of the U23 1,500m, despite winning his heat to qualify in 03:51.81.

Emily sets British record

GOLF

LUTON minigolfer Emily Gottfried set a new British women's record and an all-time personal best as she and husband Richard (pictured above) won their third caps for the Great Britain Minigolf Sport team at the World Minigolf Sport Federation Nations Cup in Stockholm, Sweden last month.

Emily, a WMF World Adventure Golf Masters women's champion, shot a round of 24(-12) on the Eternite-type miniature golf course to set the record on the playing surface, three years after the pair first played in GB colours at the WMF Nations Cup in Tampere, Finland.

She said: "The Nations Cup was a great experience for me. I feel that I learned a great deal which really improved my game. My round of 24 was the undoubted highlight. To score 12-under par on such a tough course was a real achievement for me. My Great Britain team-mates were excellent players, who all put in their best performance in the tournament."

The WMF Nations Cup was the second of three international tournaments the Gottfrieds will be competing in during the 2011 season, following May's WMF World Adventure Golf Masters in Hastings, East Sussex, where Emily claimed her world crown. They will also be competing at the Castle Golf World Crazy Golf Championships in Hastings, East Sussex, at the two-day tournament at the end of October. Richard, a team captain in Sweden, has been a finalist in the Castle Golf World Crazy Golf Championship for the last three years running.

Kroca's Killie move was on cards since first goal

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE

james.cunliffe@lutononsunday.com

ZDENEK Kroca's departure to Kilmarnock came as no surprise to Luton Town manager Gary Brabin as he believes Scottish Premier League club had coveted the defender for a year.

The Czech Republic centre back scored the only goal – his first for Luton – in a pre-season friendly between the two clubs at Kenilworth Road last summer while on trial at the Conference club.

He signed on a one-year deal soon after and then scored on his competitive debut in the 2-1 win over Altrincham. His 55 appearances and seven goals last term convinced new Killie boss Kenny Shiels to swoop for the out-of-contract 30-year-old and pin him down to a two-year deal this week.

Brabin said: "It wasn't a surprise to me. I think they [Kilmarnock] had kept an eye on him since he scored against them. We tried our best to keep him but I don't think he settled and then he was offered a deal that he couldn't refuse. He did well last season, he's a fantastic footballer and I wish him all the best."

Brabin admitted that part of the reason for signing former Northampton Town defender Dean Beckwith last month was in case he couldn't persuade Kroca to extend his stay.

"We got Dean because we thought there was every chance we might lose Kroca," said the manager. "We've also got Shane Blackett who was disappointed with the way last season went and I'm sure he's looking forward to this year."

Kroca praised the Hatters for helping him adjust to the British game.

"My time at Luton will help me as I don't

FIRST GLIMPSE: Zdenek Kroca scores the winner against Kilmarnock during last year's pre-season match think there's too much difference between English football and Scottish football," he said.

But a move away from Bedfordshire looked likely for the Czech as he admitted there was interest in him from League One outfits in England as well as from the top flight north of the border.

"There were a couple of clubs interested in me. They were League One clubs, maybe Championship, but more from League One. But this is the Premier League and it's the highest level in Scotland, so I decided to come here. There were pluses and minuses but I decided on Kilmarnock."

He added: "Everyone in the Czech Republic knows Rangers and Celtic but there are teams outside those two who are hungry for success and I think Kilmarnock is one of those teams."

FOOTBALL

LUTON Town's newest signings Dean Beckwith and Aaron O'Connor reported for duty for the first time on Friday when the squad began pre-season training.

The Hatters were put through their paces at Lewsey Park with manager Gary Brabin and assistant Alan Neilson running them through drills.

Brabin said: "I think everyone was glad to be back and looking forward to the start of a new season."

"The first day back is a bit of fun. The lads all came in, wondering what they're going to do. They all had stories of what they were up to over the summer. There's always a good bit of banter."

The manager chose to keep the football under lock and key but said he didn't want to start at full throttle.

"It wasn't too intense," he said. "I like to bring them in gently and blow the cobwebs off a little bit."

It is just under a fortnight before they start their summer friendly campaign at Hitchin Town on Friday, July 15. There is also a match at home to Serie A side Parma and a mini tour of Wales with Brabin saying variety was key to deciding the schedule.

"One of the things I tried to do was get some distance with the away games," he said.

"We are going to TNS who are in Europe and will be in full flow by the time we play them plus Colwyn Bay who have just been promoted to the Conference North."

"I think it's going to be good preparation for the tough season ahead."

Brabin glad to be back

Waiting game over new deals after Gnakpa goes to Walsall

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE

james.cunliffe@lutononsunday.com

'WE can't wait forever' – that was the message from Gary Brabin about remaining out-of-contract Luton Town stars Ed Asafu-Adjaye and Freddie Murray who are yet to pen new deals.

The number was three before the shock exit of fans' favourite and last term's second top goalscorer Claude Gnakpa on a free to League One club Walsall on Friday evening.

The Hatters manager revealed that a new contract had been offered to the Frenchman before the first day of pre-season two days ago but he was missing from the squad reporting back for duty as he was at the Banks' Stadium finalising a one-year deal with the Saddlers.

It was the second big name departure from Kenilworth Road this week after Czech Republic defender Zdenek Kroca signed a two-year deal for Scottish Premier League club Kilmarnock on Thursday.

There is now a question mark over the futures of the two full backs with Brabin unsure of what the hold up is.

On Friday he said: 'I've spoken to all the out of contract players and it is a matter of waiting for them to make a decision and put pen to paper, but at the same time they all knew we can't wait forever.'

'They haven't signed yet and something seems to be holding them back.'

With key players gone from defence, midfield and the forward line after Jason Walker's switch to York City, Brabin said he is actively searching for new players.

Reports out of Grimsby yesterday confirmed that Luton have made enquiries about Mariners marksman Alan Connell – who scored 29 goals last term – but Brabin said they are yet to make any offers.

'We haven't signed anyone yet – we've made enquiries but it's a waiting game,' he said. 'We've identified a number of players but we are sounding them out in the right manner. We've got our fingers on the pulse but we are looking for players who will get us out of this league.'

from the Prophet. A Jew came to the Prophet and asked, 'O Muhammad. Tell me from what thing man is created.' The Prophet said, 'O Jew, From both Male and Female Nutfah man is created.' [Musnad Ahmad]

This is a very astonishing revelation, as it is only recently that we came to know that both male and female cells [sperm and ovum] join together to form the human zygote – a fact not known before the 19th century.

THE ROLE OF GENES

From what substance did He create him?
From a sperm-drop [nutfah] He created him and destined [qadr] for him.'

Qur'an 80:18-19

In a single Male Nutfah [sperm cell], which measures 60 microns [1 micron = 1/1000 mm], there are 23 Chromosomes – long spiral double strand helix. They contain the genes which determine every type of characteristics the body has like hair colour, skin type, etc. Hence, it is within this Nutfah that God has determined and destined all the physical characteristics that an individual has. It is amazing that the description of these realities are so accurately stated by God in the Qur'an.

The Prophet said, 'God has ordained an angel that accompanies the different stages of development of the Nutfah. The Alaqah, the Mudghah and in every stage he asks God, 'O God, what to do next?' If God determines its full development, the angel asks, 'Is it a boy or a girl? Happy or unhappy, his livelihood and his life span. All is written [determined] while he is in mother's womb.' [Bukhari]

ALAQAH

"...Then We made the sperm-drop [nutfah] into a clinging clot [alaqah], and We made the clot [alaqah] into a lump [of flesh - mudghah]..."

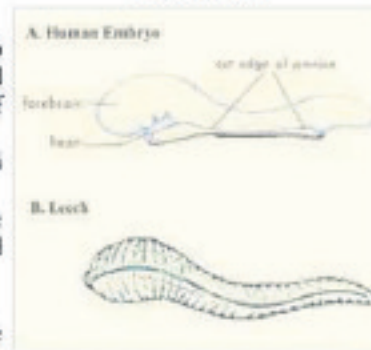

Qur'an 23:14

Literally, the Arabic word alaqah has three meanings: (1) leech, (2) suspended thing, and (3) blood clot.

In comparing a leech to an embryo in the alaqah stage, we find similarity between the two. Also, the embryo at this stage obtains nourishment from the blood of the mother, similar to the leech, which feeds on the blood of others. The second meaning of the word alaqah is "suspended thing." This is what we can see above the suspension of the embryo, during the alaqah stage, in the womb of the mother. The third meaning of the word alaqah is chewed substance. This is because of the somites

"blood clot." We find that the external appearance of the embryo and its sacs during the alaqah stage is similar to that of a blood clot. This is due to the presence of relatively large amounts of blood present in the embryo during this stage. Also during this stage, the blood in the embryo does not circulate until the end of the third week. Thus, the embryo at this stage is like a clot of blood.

MUDGHAH

The next stage mentioned in the verse is the mudghah stage. The Arabic word mudghah means "chewed substance." If one were to take a piece of gum and chew it in his or her mouth and then compare it with an embryo at the mudghah stage, we would conclude that the embryo at the mudghah stage acquires the appearance of a at the back of the embryo that "somewhat resemble teeth marks in a chewed substance."

How could Prophet Muhammad, may the blessing and mercy of God be upon him, have possibly known all this 1400 years ago, when scientists have only recently discovered this using advanced equipment and powerful microscopes which did not exist at that time? Hamm and Leeuwenhoek were the first scientists to observe human sperm cells (spermatozoa) using an improved microscope in 1677 (more than 1000 years after Prophet Muhammad, peace be upon him).

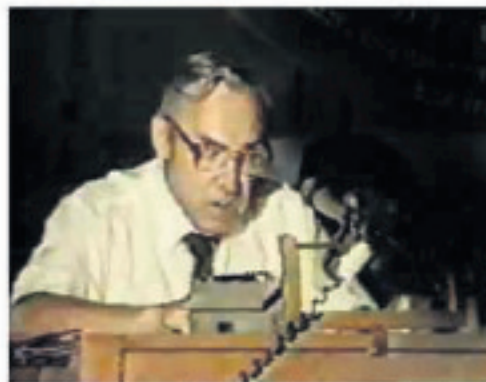

The above photograph of an embryo at the mudghah stage (28 days old). The embryo at this stage acquires the appearance of a chewed substance, because the somites at the back of the embryo somewhat resemble teeth marks in a chewed substance. The actual size of the embryo is 4 mm.

SCIENTISTS' ACCEPTANCE OF THE MIRACLES OF THE QUR'AN

Professor Emeritus Keith L. Moore: [one of the world's most prominent scientists in the fields of anatomy and embryology and is the author of the book entitled 'The Developing Human', and was chosen by a special committee in the United States as the best book authored by one person] said, "...Because the staging of human embryos is complex, owing to the continuous process of change during development, it is proposed that a new system of classification could be developed using the terms mentioned in the Qur'an and Sunnah. The proposed system is simple, comprehensive, and conforms with present embryological knowledge. The intensive studies of the Qur'an and hadith in the last four years have revealed a system for classifying human embryos that is amazing since it was recorded in the seventh century A.D. Although Aristotle, the founder of the science of embryology, realized that chick embryos developed in stages from his studies of hen's eggs in the fourth century B.C., he did not give any details about these stages. As far as it is known from the history of embryology, little was known about the staging and classification of human embryos until the twentieth century. For this reason, the descriptions of the human embryo in the Qur'an cannot be based on scientific knowledge in the seventh century."

Dr. T. V. N. Persaud: [Professor of Anatomy, University of Manitoba, Canada] said, "The way it was explained to me is that Muhammad was a very ordinary man. He could not read, didn't know [how] to write. In fact, he was an illiterate. And we're talking about twelve [actually about fourteen] hundred years ago. You have someone illiterate making profound pronouncements and statements and that are amazingly accurate about scientific nature. And I personally can't see how this could be a mere chance. There are too many accuracies and, like Dr. Moore, I have no difficulty in my mind that this is a divine inspiration or revelation which led him to these statements."

Professor Moore, World authority in Embryology and Cell Biology.
Author of 'Developing Human'

Dr. E. Marshall Johnson: [Professor Emeritus of Anatomy and Developmental Biology, Thomas Jefferson University, USA] said, "The Qur'an describes not only the development of external form, but emphasizes also the internal stages, the stages inside the embryo, of its creation and development, emphasizing major events recognized by contemporary science" and, "As a scientist, I can only deal with things which I can specifically see. I can understand embryology and developmental biology. I can understand the words that are translated to me from the Qur'an. As I gave the example before, if I were to transpose myself into that era, knowing what I know today and describing things, I could not describe the things which were described. I see no evidence for the fact to refine the concept that this individual, Muhammad, had to be developing this information from some place. So I see nothing here in conflict with the concept that divine intervention was involved in what he was able to write."

Dr. William W. Hay: [Professor of Geological Sciences, the University of Colorado, USA] said, "I find it very interesting that this sort of information is in the ancient scriptures of the Holy Qur'an, and I have no way of knowing where they would come from, but I think it is extremely interesting that they are there and that this work is going on to discover in the meaning of some of the passages." And when he was asked about the source of the Qur'an, he replied: "Well, I would think it must be the divine being."

Dr. Yoshihide Kozai: [Professor Emeritus, Tokyo University, Japan, and was the Director of the National Astronomical Observatory, Mitaka, Japan] said: "I am very much impressed by finding true astronomical facts in [the] Qur'an, and for us the modern astronomers have been studying very small pieces of the universe. We've concentrated our efforts for understanding of [a] very small part. Because by using telescopes, we can see only very few parts [of] the sky without thinking [about the] whole universe. So, by reading [the] Qur'an and by answering the questions, I think I can find my future way for investigation of the universe."
